

Progress Report #11 March 30, 2008

A milestone event in the construction of new buildings, the “topping out” of The Pinnacle at Jackson Place was celebrated by Harrell Construction, Dale and Associates and Parkway Properties on March 13th with an employee luncheon held at the construction site and the customary placement of a Christmas tree on top of the building. Technically speaking, the “topping out” of a building marks the completion of all elevated slab-work and is followed by work to make the building weather-tight and to commence customer-specific improvements in the interior spaces.

Upon its completion in late 2008, Parkway expects The Pinnacle at Jackson Place to be a LEEDS-Certified building and to provide the downtown Jackson business district some of the finest, most distinct, and “greenest” space in the southeast.

Jack Sullenberger, Senior Vice President of Technical Services said, “We are pleased with The Pinnacle’s on-track progress and look forward to offering businesses a new choice in workspace that combines Parkway’s tradition of high operational standards and exceptional customer service with a convenient downtown location.”
