

Progress Report #2 March 8, 2007

Nationally recognized urban planners, Wallace Roberts and Todd, LLC (WRT) recently joined Parkway Properties, Inc. for a design charrette focused on the new Jackson Place development. Emerging from the charrette was a refined vision for this prominent downtown block and its role in the renaissance underway in the greater downtown Jackson area.

WRT is a Philadelphia, Pennsylvania-based planning and design firm with experience in many notable projects, including the United States Capitol Master Plan, the Action Plan to Rebuild New Orleans and the City of Miami Downtown Development. Jackson Place project architects Dale and Associates Architects, P.A., a national award-winning firm based in Jackson, joined WRT and Parkway's Jackson Place development team for the intensive, on-site creative session that was the culmination of months of urban planning consultation and design development between the groups.

Shown reviewing the master plan for Jackson Place are Jim Ingram and Jack Sullenberger of Parkway, John Beckman and Seth Shapiro of WRT, and Doug Dale and Jeff Barnes of Dale and Associates.
